Starring Pratik Gandhi, Kimberley Louisa McBeath, and Asif Basra, she was inspired by the run-in case in Ahmedabad in 2013. [1] The film won the National Film Award for Best Feature Film in Gujarati at the 64th National Film Awards. The film's plot begins with a checkpoint on the edge of Ahmedabad. Two constabls were investigating a man with gold and a speeding car knocked over the checkpoint, killing the condible and seriously injuring the man. Moments later, Raju Bambani (Pratik Gandhi) arrives on the scene, shocked. Raju is a day guide and night bootlegger and aims to start his own travel agency with his mentor, Patil (Raji Jani). Raju is worked by former lawyer and industry lawyer Amitabh Shah (Asif Basra) and guides around his son, Tanmay (Kavi Shastri). Raju's sister teaches Tanmay's friend Shaily (Kimberley Louisa McBeath), Garba. Raju acts as a guide for him and shows him in the city and falls in love with him. While driving Tanmay around, Raju also learns about the story relationship between Tanmay and his father and Tanmay's problems with his business friend, Mark. When Tanmay learns of Raju's growing familiarity with Shaily, he withdraws from his guarantee for the loan Raju requires for his travel agency. During Navratri, Shaily goes to Garba with Raju and learns about this Tanmay asking Shaily to drive away with him and if he does not comply he threatens that he will damage Raju's future. Shaily reluctant to comply, Raju follows them on his scooter. The train eventually meets the accident and Raju arrives on the scene someday. The next day, police began an investigation into the case and found Raju's scooter near the scene of the crash, including a bottle of illicit liquor he was carrying. The police threatened to make a case against Raju for the Prevention of Anti-Social Activities (PASA), unless he cooperated in the break-in, but Raju claimed the prank about the incident when he arrived on the scene Passing. The police inspector asked the ₹15 lakh corruption to ignore pasa's case against him. Raju also finds a golden man who was injured during the accident is one of his regulars, Pritam Parikh (Kenneth Desai). Raju and Patil Patil to accumulate the amount of corruption to get rid of PASA cases against it. During the investigation, police discovered CCTV footage, showing Tanmay driving the car minutes before the crash. Amitabh Shah offered bribes of 2 crores to frame Raju rather than for the crime, he also degraded the alleged threat from Tanmay's business partner, Mark and gave him ₹50 million. When the case reached court, Pritam Parikh's son, Parth Parikh agreed to fight the Raju case. Parth highlights the difficult investigations and conspiracies to frame Raju. The court dismissed the charges against Raju and asked police to rein in the case and filed the charge again, calling Tanmay, who has been missing since the crash. After the release, Raju clashed in Parth about the events of the night. Raju revealed that when he reached the crash site, it was actually Shaily who was driving the car and Tanmay had died during the crash of the car. To save Shaily, he was asked to leave the country; they got rid of Tanmay's body and threatened his father as Mark to create the impression that he was relegated. Raju deftended himself saying he took recusal actions. Raju is reunited with Shaily in Paris.
